Weekly Message

Dear Robert Warren families,

Many parents have expressed their satisfaction with the clear and consistent Personal Mobile Device (PMD) policy implemented at the beginning of the school year. As a longtime educator who began teaching before PMDs became common, I have been thrilled to see students shift their communication from devices to in-person conversations. Thank you to students and families for adhering to the policy and embracing this opportunity to learn in a PMD-free environment.

As technology continues to advance, artificial intelligence (AI) is playing an increasingly significant role in society. With proper guidelines, AI can enhance teaching and learning in the classroom. It already supports many technologies that students and staff use, including predictive and assistive literacy tools, digital learning resources with algorithmic guidance, online research, and more.

As we navigate the world of AI, it's important to cultivate classroom cultures that use AI tools ethically and appropriately. Teachers are starting discussions with students about the following topics:

- How to use AI tools ethically in student work
- Exploring and modeling appropriate and inappropriate uses of AI during the learning process
- Co-creating guidelines for when and how to use AI to document learning

Have a wonderful weekend!

Kristal Derbyshire, Principal

School Conferences

School Conference booking opened this morning at 8 AM. Conferences will be held in person on Thursday, October 24th, from 5 PM to 8 PM, and Friday, October 25th, from 9 AM to 2 PM. Please note that Friday is a non-instructional day, and no students will be in attendance due to the conferences.

To book a 10-minute conference with a teacher, please use MyCBE. We ask that parents and families schedule meetings with core teachers only, as time slots are limited. The exception is for students in Band, as Mrs. Gilliland is available for conference bookings. If an option teacher has specific concerns, they will reach out directly to arrange a meeting.

To book your conference, follow these steps:

1. Log in to MyCBE
2. Select the "Book and Manage Meeting Times" icon
